Erasing Invisibility, Inequity and Social Injustice of Africans in the Diaspora and the Continent

Edited by Omiunota N. Ukpokodu and Peter Otiato Ojiambo

This volume engages the reader in understanding past and contemporary critical issues in African scholarship, both in the diaspora and on the continent, that have been marginalized, unexamined, and under-researched, and proposes ways to make them visible. The book is timely as it imagines and reimagines scholarship on Africans in the diaspora and on the continent.

Omiunota N. Ukpokodu is a Professor in the Division of Teacher Education and Curriculum at the University of Missouri-Kansas City, USA. She teaches courses in multicultural education, urban education, social justice, and social studies. Her research interests include quality teacher preparation, critical multicultural education, global/citizenship education, immigrant education, transformative learning and pedagogy, culturally responsive teaching, Ubuntu pedagogy, and social justice pedagogy.

Peter Otiato Ojiambo is an Associate Professor in the Department of African and African-American Studies at the University of Kansas, USA. He holds a PhD in Educational Studies from Gladys W. and David H. Patton College of Education at Ohio University, USA.

Hardback 317pp
£64.99 UK
$109.95 US

20% Discount available
Order online at our website
www.cambridgescholars.com
Discount Code: invisibility20

Our books are also sold worldwide on Amazon, Blackwell and Ingram
www.cambridgescholars.com
orders@cambridgescholars.com